Light really makes it hurt bad. Um it's a 10 out of 10 pain and you're also complaining of a stiff neck with that. Yes. Um it came on gradually and it's been constant pain in the frontal area. Um medical history, you're in hyper, you have high blood pressure but that's um controlled with diet. Uh no surgical history, no really hospitalization. Um the pain no isn't really impacting your day-to-day living daily life. Um you took try to Tylenol train, it didn't help, otherwise no medications. Um you've got the family history of your mom with migraines, otherwise your um family is healthy. Yeah. Uh you smoke about a half a pack a day. You don't drink. Um and then you were you you said you took a trip about a week ago, two weeks ago.",

"timestamp": "07:37",
"dialogue": "Yeah, and I can understand that and you know, um so what I would like to do is um we've pretty much gone over your the history. What I'd like to do is uh complete a physical exam. Okay. Um do some testing. All right. Um and I want to ask too if there's any other concerns I need to address uh before we get to the final exam. Okay. Okay. That that sounds good.", my chief complaint and asked about any other concerns and that's when I told you I was also concerned about my insurance. So that was another uh thing on the agenda. So you did set a mutual agenda, asked me if I agreed and so we had a clear road map going forward. so you did um you hit all those real well. You your first question, tell me about this pain or um that was a nice open-ended question. so allowed me to then tell my story. Um, followed up with some more um pointed questions just for clarification on um and you had you're an active listener, had good contact, eye contact and um could do a little bit more um uh reflective listening um just a a little points where you could verify um check for accuracy, maybe paraphrase as as I'm going through through um you did a nice summary uh in the middle. that's good. but just a little bit more reflection on that to let me know as a patient that you're hearing me. Um, you asked my perspective of what I thought was going on and then you got the story um of my fear that I've got a brain tumor. I don't know. Yeah. So, um, I thought you had nice flow, logical uh uh sequence of questioning. Um, little bit of sign posting, we just covered this and now we're going to do that. I I heard that once. Um, and as these um interviews get longer, you're going to want to sign post between each um section. I've taken your history. Now I'd like to go into uh um of a physical exam. Okay. thing. Um, did a nice summary in the middle. Uh you moved through quickly. so you attended to um the timeline. You did ask permission permission to ask some um uh social questions. Maybe you want to mention um social questions may not be a a flag for me that this is this could be personal or uncomfortable. Maybe I'm going to ask a little more some personal questions here. Is that all right with you? Just so I'm Social sounds fine to me until you start asking something that might sound personal. So you might use the the word uh some more personal questions here. Uh non non-judgmental didn't you know, didn't bat an eye when when I said I smoke half a pack. Um, you have nice uh vocal range, eye contact, um, comfortable demeanor. so uh that um felt real good. And then um, you uh did a summary uh at the end and um asked did you ask do anything else? Okay. So anything else before um we do a a physical exam. So it was very nice, nice encounter.",
